Advance Directives

An “Advance Directive” is a general term that refers to your instructions about your medical care in the event you become unable to voice these instructions yourself. Each state regulates advance directives differently. STATE laws regarding Advanced Directives are found in North Carolina GS 90-320-321. In the state of North Carolina all patients have the right to name someone to make health care decisions for them when they cannot make or communicate those decisions. There are two methods for competent adults to communicate decisions about their medical care in the event they should become incompetent and no longer able to make these decisions for themselves or communicate their wishes. A “living will” is a written declaration of the individual’s desire for a natural death. A health care power of attorney is a written document appointing another person to accept or refuse medical treatment in the event of incapacity.

You have the right to informed decision making regarding your care, including information regarding Advance Directives and this facility’s policy on Advance Directives. Applicable state forms will also be provided upon request. A member of our staff will be discussing Advance Directives with the patient (and/or patient’s representative or surrogate) prior to the procedure being performed.

Raleigh Endoscopy Center respects the right of patients to make informed decisions regarding their care. The Center has adopted the position that an ambulatory surgery center setting is not the most appropriate setting for end of life decisions. Therefore, it is the policy of this surgery center that in the absence of an applicable properly executed Advance Directive, if there is deterioration in the patient's condition during treatment at the surgery center, the personnel at the center will initiate resuscitative or other stabilizing measures. The patient will be transferred to an acute care hospital, where further treatment decisions will be made.

If the patient has Advance Directives which have been provided to the surgery center that impact resuscitative measures being taken, we will discuss the treatment plan with the patient and his/her physician to determine the appropriate course of action to be taken regarding the patient's care. The patient is advised that in the event of a life threatening occurrence, emergency medical procedures are implemented, and the patient is stabilized and transported to a hospital. In order to support informed decision making on the part of the patient, the patient may opt to have the procedure/surgery scheduled at an alternative facility.

PATIENT ESCORTS

All sedated patients must be discharged from the facility accompanied by a responsible adult/licensed driver (family member or friend). Patients who have a service to transport them home must have a designated individual with them during transport. The name and relationship of the responsible adult/licensed driver will be documented in the Medical Record.
